Argentan Lace Necklines

Method

Hoop two - three layers of water soluble stabilizer and stitch out design.

Stich out designs 1 and 2 for the larger neckline

Stitch out designs 4 and 5 for the smaller neckline

Design 3 is used for both necklines

Cut the designs out of the stabilizer

Hoop two - three layers water soluble. Using the plastic grid for your hoop, mark the center point of the hoop. I used a wash out pen for this.

Materials

Water soluble stabilizer

Embroidery Thread

Print out of designs
Ratio 1:1

Magic tape

Using the printout of the design 3, Place the printout in the center of the hoop matching the center point of printout to hoop center.

Tape the bottom section of the printout to the stabilizer. Place the two stitched out pieces between the printout and the stabilizer. Let the printout overlap the stitched pieces. Tape the stitched pieces well to the hoop. Place the tape so it doesn't interfere with the printout as you will be stitching where the printout is.

Remove printout and place a piece of water soluble stabilizer of stitching area. Put hoop into machine and match the needle of the machine to the marked center of the hoop.

Stitch out design 3. Soak lace to remove the stabilizer. Now you can attach the neckline to your v-neck blouse or top.
